

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

We all have responsibilities at work.

Learning Outcome

Describe necessity, duty, advice, or strong disapproval in written and spoken situations according to work and social contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about what needs to be done or needs doing.
- I can give oral instructions.
- I can talk about my work responsibilities.

Ask your partner:

- Are there things that you need to do every day? What are they?
- How do you plan your time to make sure things get done?

Let's Explore!

Kristi and Adam get their assignments

* An "assignment" is a piece of work that is given to someone as part of their job.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Boris: Before you go off to meet with your editors, I have a few things I would like to go over with both of you. Pay attention, take notes and ask questions if needed.
- Kristi: Okay.
- Boris: I'm going to give you both some tasks. These are the tasks that need addressing by the end of the day. The first task will consist of filing and photocopying.
- Adam: Filing?
- Boris: Yes, here are some files that need to be filed. This stack of documents needs filing. Those articles over there need photocopying.
- Adam: Do they need to be filed as well?
- Boris: After you've sorted them, yes. Make sure they are sorted chronologically.
- Kristi: What else needs to be done?
- Boris: You'll both need to address a few inquiries. We receive numerous inquiries by phone and e-mail every week.
- Adam: Okay.
- Boris: Then, you'll move on to another task which you will be doing a lot of as editorial assistants. Research, specifically researching and identifying potential images that we will use in our publications.
- Kristi: Can we use any image we see fit?
- Adam: Kristi, there's copyright laws! You can't just pull anything off the Internet.
- Boris: Yes, Adam has a point. Infringement of copyright can lead to monetary damages, lawsuits and costly legal fees. That's something we must avoid. Nonetheless, you need to find royalty-free images. To find these images, you are going to access a stock photo site. Here, let me show you.
- Adam: Do we have to take notes?
- Boris: If you want to.

Let's Practice!

Kristi and Boris get busy with work.

Instructions: Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete the sentences. There are extra options you do not need to use.

Word Bank

copyright / royalty / stock photo / filing / copywrite / filling
Infringement / photocopying

Kristi, there's _____ laws! _____ of copyright may result in monetary damages, lawsuits or costly legal fees. Now, back to my point, you need to find _____ -free images. To find these images, you are going to access a _____ site. The first task will consist of _____ and _____ .

Let's Practice!

The editor delegates* some tasks to Kristi and Boris.

*To "delegate" means to entrust (a task or responsibility) to another person.

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentences. Write the sentences in the correct order.

1. I'm / some / to give / you / going / both / tasks / .

2. first / task / of / and / photocopying / . / filing / The / consist / will

3. both / You'll / address / a / few / inquiries / . / to / need

4. move / another / you'll / be / You'll / doing / a lot / of / on to / as / which / editorial / task / assistants / .

5. going / are / to / a / stock / site / . / You / access / photo

Extension Activity

Research the job of a copy editor.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go on the Internet, find out all you can about the job of a copy editor.
- Make notes on the duties, education, training, salary and any other information you can find.
- Write a paragraph describing the job.
- Read your paragraph aloud to your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I research and identify the copy editor position on the Internet.

☐ ☐

I make notes based on the research that I do.

☐ ☐

I write a paragraph about a job based on my notes.

☐ ☐

I read my paragraph aloud.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- filing (noun): the activity of putting documents, electronic information, etc. into files
e.g. The first task will consist of filing and photocopying.
- photocopying (noun): the activity of making a photographic copy of a document e.g. One of my least favorite tasks is photocopying.
- inquiry (noun): a question
e.g. We receive numerous inquiries via phone and/or e-mail every week.
- copyright laws (noun): the law to control the production and selling of a book, play, film, photograph, or piece of music e.g. There's copyright laws!
- infringement (noun): an action that breaks a rule, law, etc.
e.g. Infringement of copyright may result in monetary damages.
- royalty (noun): a payment made to people who have created things, every time their creations are bought or used by others e.g. You need to find royalty-free images.
- stock photo (noun): a photograph which is often licensed for sale for specific uses e.g. To find these images, you are going to access a stock photo site.

Learning Points

Need + Passive Infinitive and Need + Verb-ing

When you use the passive voice, rather than the active voice, you want to focus on the 'receiver' of the action, rather than the 'doer' of the action.

Using the passive voice is a less direct way of communication, making you sound more polite and less forward. Therefore, it is common to hear this type of language being used in a professional environment.

Need + passive infinitive and need + verb-ing are two structures you use to talk about tasks and priorities. You use these structures to imply that we don't know who will address the issue, or that the person addressing the issue is not the focus of the sentence.

Subject + Need + Passive Infinitive

Here are some files that need to be filed.

The subject of the sentence is the thing that needs addressing.

Subject + Need + Verb + ing

Those articles over there need photocopying.

Here, the gerund (verb-ing) takes on a passive meaning.

Examples:

- These are the tasks that need addressing by the end of the day.
- Here are some files that need to be filed and this stack of documents needs sorting.
- Those articles over there need photocopying.
- Do they need to be filed as well?
- What else needs to be done?

Learning Points

The Simple Future

You use will, be going to and will be + verb-ing to talk about the future.

When you make a decision at the moment of speaking for the future or when you make predictions, you use the modal will.

For example:

I'll just go and get my jacket. (decision at the moment of speaking)

You'll be hungry if you don't eat now. (prediction)

When you talk about plans, you use be going to.

For example:

I'm going to access the website.

When you talk about things that will be happening in the future, you use will be + verb-ing.

For example:

You will be doing a lot as assistants.

Examples:

- I'm going to give you both some tasks.
- The first task will consist of filing and photocopying.
- Once this task is done, you'll both need to address a few inquiries.
- Then, you'll move on to another task.
- To find these images, you are going to access a stock photo site.

